

VINO VISPO FRIZZANTE

	Wine Type	Sparkling Wine
	Vintage	NV
	Style	Soft & Fruity Whites
	Country	Italy
	Region	Veneto
	Grower Name	Enrico Bedin
	Grape Variety	Glera (Prosecco)
	ABV	10.50
	Closure	Screw Cap
	Allergens	Sulphites
	Method
	Product SKU	VINOVISPO75CL

TASTING NOTES

Vino Vispo Frizzante Non Vintage. This sparkling is all about drinkability. It is a refreshing fizz that has beautiful aromatics which really jump out of the glass. The nose is delicate with floral aromas overlaying ripe white nectarine and peach. On the palate, the fizz offers yellow pear and a chalky minerality with hints of honey in each sip.

Food Matches

Fresh Papaya Salsa on Tortilla, Tempura Zucchini with Aioli & Smoked Trout Canapes

GROWER

REGION

GRAPE

Enrico Bedin

This family owned winery started producing quality wines with passion and dedication passed down from father to son for many generations. Nestled at the foot of the hills that surround the medieval town of Asolo, also known as the "Colli Asolani"- a territory that is a unique combination of natural ... Read More

View More Wines By Enrico Bedin

Veneto

The Veneto is an extremely important region in the north-east of Italy, stretching from the west at the shores of Lake Garda as far north as the Alps, the Austrian border and the Venetian hinterland. It is Italy's largest wine-producing region. DOC wines represent well over a quarter of total produc... Read More

View More Wines From Veneto

Glera (Prosecco)

Glera is the name by which the grape Prosecco is now officially known. This changed in 2009 when Prosecco di Conegliano-Valdobbiadene was promoted to full DOCG status (the highest level of Italian wine quality). It has grown for hundreds of years in Veneto and Friuli regions in Italy. A white grape v... Read More

View More Wines With Glera \(Prosecco\) Grapes