Bacchus

Bacchus is England's third most planted grape variety. It is highly aromatic and is regarded as having a similar style to Sauvignon Blanc. Bacchus wines have great aging potential and can develop into premium wines with interesting flavours.

TASTING NOTES

The Uncommon is the UK's first drinks brand to produce premium, English sparkling wine in a can. Their 2018 bubbly white is made from 100% Bacchus grapes hand harvested and sustainably grown from vineyards in Kent, Hampshire and Surrey. It is crisp, dry, and lightly sparkling, offering delicate notes of pear, grapefruit and elderflower.
