REGION

Veneto

The Veneto is an extremely important region in the north-east of Italy, stretching from the west at the shores of Lake Garda as far north as the Alps, the Austrian border and the Venetian hinterland. It is Italy's largest wine-producing region. DOC wines represent well over a quarter of total produc... Read More

GRAPE

Corvina

Corvina is the most important varietal in the Valpolicella appellation, with its famous sour-cherry character, as well as good body and structure. Thick skins means it can be air-dried in the traditional appassimento style, making it suitable for use in the prestigious Amarone della Valpolicella wine... Read More

TASTING NOTES

Cantina di Castelnuovo del Garda Valpolicella 2023. Youthful and bright, this wine has a wonderful bouquet of bright red raspberry and cherries with a touch of florals. With a light to medium bodied palate, expect juicy sour cherries, cinnamon, chocolate, pepper, and almond to follow.

Food Matches

Charcuterie, Polenta with Braised Meats & Cotechino with Lentils
