GRAPE

Grillo

Grillo is a native southern Italian wine grape now mainly cultivated in Sicily where it has long been used as the base for the finest wines from Marsala. It produces wines that are a study of texture rather than fruit, with a broad and rich mouthfeel and mineral edged ripe lemon fruit.

TASTING NOTES

Terre di Vita Colline dell Rose Grillo 2023. This is an organic and pleasant rose, with expressive aromas, offering remarkable scents of yellow-fleshed fruit intertwined with delicate floral notes of jasmine. On the palate, it is balanced and light, with harmonious fruit flavors enhanced by excellent sapidity, creating a refreshing and elegant finish.
